

ANI Welcomes New Member Organization: Surgical Informations Systems - Clinical Advisory Task Force

September 20, 2010 – The Alliance for Nursing Informatics (ANI) is a collaboration of organizations that enables a unified voice for nursing informatics. Today this voice was expanded with the addition of a new membership organization: Surgical Informations Systems (SIS) - Clinical Advisory Task Force. SIS is a privately-owned corporation under management of Vista Equity Partners of San Francisco, California and currently addresses the surgical information needs of more than 270 hospitals across North America. In 2009 SIS formed the Clinical Advisory Task Force to collaborate on product development, client satisfaction and interoperability to present best practice recommendations to the appropriate departments as a voice for nursing informatics professionals.

Current ANI membership organizations include:

- American Medical Informatics Association (AMIA)
- ANIA-CARING
- Association of periOperative Registered Nurses (AORN)
- Association of Women’s Health, Obstetric and Neonatal Nurses (AWHONN)
- Center for Nursing Classification and Clinical Effectiveness (CNC)
- Central Savannah River Area Clinical Informatics Network (CSRA - CIN)
- Cerner Nursing Advisory Board
- Connecticut Healthcare Informatics Network (CHIN)
- CPM Resource Center International Consortium
- Croatia Nursing Informatics Association (CroNIA)
- Delaware Valley Nursing Computer Network (DVNCN)
- Health Informatics of New Jersey (HINJ)
- Healthcare Information and Management Systems Society (HIMSS)
- Informatics Nurses From Ohio (INFO)
- MEDITECH Nurse Informatics program
- Midwest Nursing Research Society - NI Research Section (MNRS)
- Minnesota Nursing Informatics Group (MINING)
- NANDA International
- New England Nursing Informatics Consortium (NENIC)
- North Carolina State Nurses Association Council on NI (NCNA CONI)
- Omaha System
- Puget Sound Nursing Informatics (PSNI)
- SNOMED CT Nursing Working Group
- South Carolina Informatics Nursing Network (SCINN)
- Surgical Informations Systems – Clinical Advisory Task Force (SIS)
- Taiwan Nursing Informatics Association (TNIA)
- Utah Nursing Informatics Network (UNIN)

Related Organizations: American Nurses Association & American Nurses Credentialing Center

ANI, cosponsored by AMIA & HIMSS, represents more than 5,000 nurse informaticists and brings together over 25 distinct nursing informatics groups globally. ANI crosses academia, practice, industry, and nursing specialty boundaries and works in collaboration with the nearly 3.1 million nurses in practice today.